LETTER FROM THE CHIEF

Dear Collectors,

As we welcome the spring season in the northern hemisphere, the UNPA is excited to bring to our collectors intriguing new stamps focusing on environmental and quality-of-life issues.

For the first time, we have partnered with Romfilatelia, the issuing company of Romanian postage stamps, to jointly issue one of the UNPA's bestselling stamp series, the Endangered Species stamps. The United Nations stamps feature twelve brand new species, which were added to the CITES appendixes as a result of the COP17 World Wildlife Conference in South Africa last year. The Romanian stamps feature four species native to Romania that are currently on the CITES list. A special first day of issue ceremony is planned at the International Stamp Fair in Essen, Germany on 11 May 2017, and you are welcome to join us.

As Canada celebrates its 150th anniversary, it also plans to host this year's World Environment Day celebration on 5 June 2017. It is fitting then that the new UN stamps for the World Environment Day capture the natural beauty of Canada, as it offers its citizens free access to their national parks for a year to encourage them to "connect with nature". We hope that people around the world will take notice and be inspired to connect and protect the natural wonders of our world.

Earlier at the end of March, UNPA issued two new "Smurfs" special event sheets for the International Day of Happiness. The stamps feature the popular Smurfs characters along with the 17 UN Sustainable Development Goals to encourage people to make a positive difference in our world. Another special event sheet for the International Yoga Day is also planned to raise awareness of the many benefits of practicing yoga.

As always, we thank you for your interest in United Nations stamps, and we welcome your comments and suggestions.

For over 20 years, the United Nations Postal Administration (UNPA) has issued stamps to highlight the need for the protection of endangered species throughout the world. UNPA is proud to present this year's collection, featuring a variety of new species added to or updated in the CITES appendices in 2017 as a result of the COP17 World Wildlife Conference held in Johannesburg, South Africa in 2016.

For this stamp issuance, UNPA is having a joint theme stamp issuance with Romfilatelia (the issuing company of Romanian postage stamps). A special first day cover, which contains 12 UN and 4 Romanian stamps, is available and can be purchased by using the order form attached to this Bulletin.

The CHF 1,50 stamps depict the following endangered species:

WORLD ENVIRONMENT DAY

On 5 June 2017, UNPA will issue six stamps to commemorate World Environment Day. The stamps showcase the environmental beauty of Canada's landscape.

World Environment Day (WED) is celebrated on June 5 each year and is the United Nations' principal means for encouraging worldwide awareness and action for the environment. Over the years, it has grown to be a broad, global platform for public outreach that is widely celebrated in over 100 countries. It also serves as the 'people's day' for doing something positive for the environment, galvanizing individual actions into a collective power that generates a positive impact on the planet.

This year Canada is the host of World Environment Day, and the theme selected is "Connecting People to Nature". This offers a great opportunity for Canada to highlight its rich natural environment and to profile the Government's actions on environmental conservation.

On 21 June 2017, UNPA will issue a new special event sheet to commemorate the International Day of Yoga.

The United Nations proclaimed 21 June as the International Day of Yoga to raise awareness worldwide of the many benefits of practicing yoga.

Yoga is an ancient physical, mental and spiritual practice that originated in India. The word 'yoga' derives from Sanskrit and means to join or to unite, symbolizing the union of body and consciousness. Today it is practiced in various forms around the world and continues to grow in popularity.

Customers with standing-order requirements for special events will automatically receive this item through their accounts. All other customers can purchase this Special Event Sheet in either mint or cancelled condition by using the order form attached to this Fascination.
