Important information and alert: Please note that your orders and/or mail may be delayed due to the restrictions at United Nations Headquarters in New York and the United Nations office in Vienna as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. We are, however, committed to process and fulfill your orders as soon as we can. If there are any questions, please email us at unpanyinquiries@un.org or UNPA-Europe@un.org or UNPA-Asia@un.org. Dear Collectors,

On behalf of the United Nations Postal Administration, we hope that this past year has been a healthy and happy one. For those who have suffered with ill health or lost loved ones, we offer our sincerest condolences and continued prayers for healing.

Looking back at our programme of the past year, we have had many interesting and important stamp issues, which included United Against Racism and Discrimination; Olympic Games in Tokyo; Mother Teresa; and World Toilet Day.

In addition, UNPA issued several special event sheets to mark the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Comprehensive Nuclear-Test-Ban Treaty, the Dubai Expo, United Nations Biodiversity Conference, the "Celebrations" stamp sheets and the seventy-fifth anniversary of the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF). UNPA also continued its very popular Endangered Species and World Heritage stamp series featuring bridges, waterways and railways.

One of the most popular stamp issues of 2021 was the John Lennon Imagine stamp issue, featuring portraits of John Lennon and special souvenir sheets featuring the lyrics of his song "Imagine".

For 2022, UNPA is planning to celebrate the winter Olympic Games in Beijing, Wangari Maathai, Planet Mars and World Mental Health Day. In addition, UNPA will feature Intangible Cultural Heritage for its World Heritage stamp series, Endangered Species stamps, the second set of Crypto stamps and a number of special event sheets.

As always, we appreciate your support and loyalty to the United Nations stamp programme. We hope that the new year brings you and your families peace and good health.

JOHN LENNON - FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY "IMAGINE" INTERNATIONAL DAY OF PEACE

On 21 September each year, the International Day of Peace is observed around the world. The United Nations has declared it as a day devoted to strengthening the ideals of peace, both within and among all nations and peoples. It is an occasion for all of humanity to put aside their differences and contribute to promoting a culture of peace worldwide.

The United Nations Postal Administration (UNPA) is marking this occasion with the issuance of three stamps featuring the world-renowned musician John Lennon. The special souvenir sheets contain the song lyrics of "Imagine", John Lennon's signature and his self-portrait.

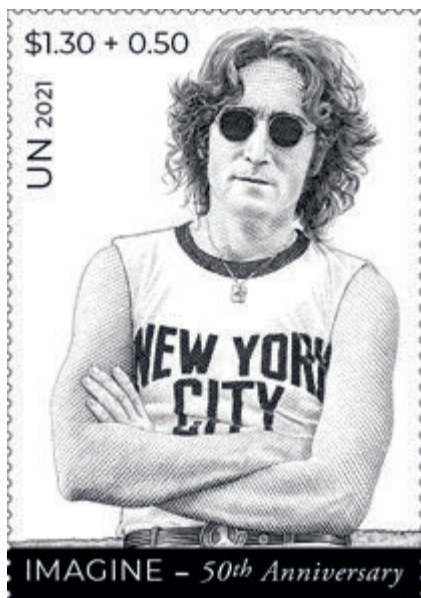

The year 2021 marks the fiftieth anniversary of the recording of "Imagine" by the English rock musician. Released in 1971, the song, which is the most successful single of Lennon's solo career, has been covered by artists in every genre around the globe. It has been performed at some of the world's biggest events, including concerts for peace, hunger, New Year's celebrations and the Olympic Games. It has also been played as a hopeful message during troubling times throughout history.

The song lyrics encourage us to put aside all differences and unify to imagine a world of peace, without greed, without hunger, without barriers separating people and nations. John Lennon's message of peace, love and goodwill conveyed through his music, still resonates today.

We can best honour the International Day of Peace by standing up against acts of hate and by spreading compassion, kindness and hope so the world can "live as one" – just as John Lennon imagined.

The stamps and souvenir sheets feature photographs by Bob Gruen (US$ value), Iain Macmillan (CHF value) and David Nutter (Euro value). The stamps were illustrated by Martin Mörck (Norway) based on the photographs. The stamp issue was designed by Rorie Katz. (United Nations).

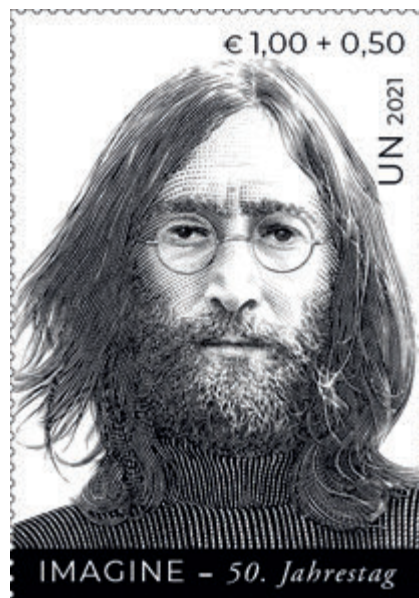

A surcharge has been added to both the stamps and souvenir sheets, which will go directly to help fund the United Nations peacekeeping operations.

SPECIAL EVENT MINI-SHEET

Item No. 396.4944

On 11 October 2021, UNPA will issue a special event three-stamp mini-sheet in the denominations of $1.30, CHF 2.00 and €1.80 to commemorate the United Nations Biodiversity Conference. The first part of the meeting will take place virtually from 11 to 15 October 2021, with the second part reconvening face-to-face from 25 April to 8 May 2022 in Kunming, China. Biological diversity is about more than plants, animals, fungi and microorganisms and their ecosystems. It is about people and our need for food security, medicines, fresh air and water, shelter, and a clean and healthy environment in which to live.

Despite ongoing efforts, biodiversity is deteriorating worldwide. The United Nations Biodiversity Conference will convene

This post-2020 global biodiversity framework sets out an ambitious plan to implement action to bring about a transformation in society's relationship with biodiversity and to ensure that, by 2050, the shared vision of living in harmony with nature is fulfilled.

The stamp sheet incorporates coral fish, ants, tiger, snake, orchid, beetle, crane bird, salamander, turtle, volcanic coral and fossil. The sheets are consecutively numbered, making each one unique.

WORLD TOILET DAY

World Toilet Day is observed annually on 19 November to raise awareness of the 4.2 billion people living without access to safely managed sanitation, which undermines health, dignity and economic development. It is a day for taking action to tackle the global sanitation crisis and to achieve Sustainable Development Goal 6: water and sanitation for all by 2030.

The effects of climate change, such as floods, droughts and rising sea levels are threatening sanitation systems – from toilets to septic tanks to treatment plants. Floodwater can damage toilets and contaminate drinking water, which spreads human waste into our communities and food crops, causing deadly and chronic diseases. These incidents, which are becoming more frequent as climate change worsens, cause public health emergencies and degrade the environment.

Globally, 80 per cent of the wastewater generated by society flows back into the ecosystem without being treated or reused. Sustainable sanitation systems make productive use of waste to safely boost agriculture and reduce and capture emissions for greener energy.

Everyone has a right to safe, clean sanitation and drinking water. It is critical that we all have access to sustainable sanitation, clean water and hygiene facilities to maintain healthy communities and to help stop the spread of deadly infectious diseases, such as COVID-19 and other illnesses.

THE DESIGNS:

The United Nations stamps created for World Toilet Day 2021 depict three of the most important ways toilets, water and hygiene add value to our lives.

58c Safely managed toilets and water services dispose of our waste, helping prevent food crops from being contaminated and ensuring sustainable use of water in agriculture.

CHF 1,00 Good hygiene practices are possible only with reliable and affordable water and sanitation services, which help to protect people from preventable diseases such as COVID-19 and cholera.

€1,00 Toilets at home, school and workplaces particularly benefit women and girls, helping them play their full role in society, especially during menstruation and pregnancy.
