Mars has been a source of curiosity for centuries. In a historic year for exploration, three missions reached their destinations on, and around, the Red Planet in 2021. This stamp series marks those pioneering achievements.

$1.30 stamp – Mars 2020 Perseverance Rover

$1.30 souvenir sheet – Mars 2020 Ingenuity Helicopter

2. The United Arab Emirates mission to Mars launched its Hope Probe which successfully entered Mars's orbit on 9 February 2021.

CHF 1,10 stamp – Planet Mars taken by United Arab Emirates Hope Probe

CHF 1,50 stamp – Emirates Mars Mission "Ready to Launch"

CHF 2,00 souvenir sheet – United Arab Emirates Hope Probe

3. The China Nations Space Administration (CNSA) launched its first Mars mission "Tianwen-1" which landed on Mars on 15 May 2021.

€0,85 stamp – pre-selected landing area for Tianwen-1 mission

€1,00 stamp – Zhurong Rover operating on Mars

€1,80 souvenir sheet – Zhurong Rover Landing Platform

As humankind races towards Mars, it is important that countries work together to promote international cooperation and peaceful use and exploration of space, and in the utilization of space science and technology for sustainable economic and social development. Since 1958, the United Nations Office for Outer Space Affairs (UNOOSA) has worked to promote these objectives.

WORLD HUMANITARIAN DAY

On 19 August 2003, a bomb attack on the United Nations office in Baghdad, Iraq, killed 22 humanitarian aid workers. Five years later, the General Assembly adopted a resolution designating 19 August as World Humanitarian Day to express solidarity with people affected by conflicts or natural disasters and pay tribute to the humanitarian workers who help them.

Each year, World Humanitarian Day brings together partners from across the humanitarian system to raise public awareness of humanitarian work; to advocate for the survival, well-being and dignity of people affected by crises; and to call for the safety and security of aid workers.

This year, on 19 August, UNPA issued three stamp sheets for World Humanitarian Day, featuring beautiful artwork by award-winning illustrator Olga Shtonda from Kharkiv, Ukraine, to raise awareness and funding for humanitarian action. A surcharge will be added to the stamps, which will go directly to the United Nations Central Emergency Response Fund (CERF) to help people in need.

Managed by the United Nations Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (OCHA), donating to CERF is one of the fastest ways to get urgent aid to the world's most vulnerable people whenever and wherever crises hit.

From Ukraine to Yemen and beyond, CERF funding reaches millions of people trapped in disasters and conflict, allowing humanitarian partners to save lives by providing urgently needed food, water, health care and much more.

ABOUT THE ARTIST

Olga Shtonda is an illustrator and artist from Ukraine. She studied Graphic Arts at Kharkiv Design and Arts Academy (2009–2015), where she fell in love with printmaking techniques and textures, which greatly influenced her style.

Olga has received awards at many international illustration competitions. In 2019 she won the Ars in Fabula Grant Award and it gave her the opportunity to study in Italy and get the master's degree in editorial illustration. She is constantly learning and loves to apply her knowledge of illustration in a wider range of fields, for example, animation. Her illustrations adorned children's books, book covers, board games, music posters, etc.

Olga enjoys working with textures and vibrant colours, but most of all she appreciates humor in her illustrations.

In between illustrating, she loves traveling, riding her bicycle and observing people. It always helps Olga to collect materials, stories and ideas as inspiration for her next artworks. Her works are highly inspired by humans and nature. They are fun and cheerful because she likes to make people smile.

CANCELLATIONS

World Humanitarian Day

In 2009, the General Assembly designated August 19 as World Humanitarian Day in memory of the 22 humanitarian aid workers killed during a bomb attack on the United Nations office in Baghdad, Iraq, on that day in 2003. Each year, on World Humanitarian Day, the global humanitarian system comes together to advocate for the survival, well-being and dignity of people affected by crises and to call for the safety and security of aid workers.

Humanitarian workers are here to help the world's most vulnerable people when disaster strikes. But around the world, aid workers face growing threats. In the past 20 years, shootings, kidnappings and other attacks on humanitarian organizations have increased tenfold. On World Humanitarian Day, we pay tribute to aid workers everywhere and commit to doing everything possible to protect them and their vital work.

— António Guterres, Secretary-General

Every week, humanitarian workers across the world are killed, injured, sexually assaulted, kidnapped or detained as they work to help the world's most vulnerable people. World Humanitarian Day is a moment to commemorate aid workers who have fallen. Taking meaningful and immediate action to protect each and every aid worker operating today is the best way we can honour their legacy.

— Martin Griffiths, Under-Secretary-General for Humanitarian Affairs and Emergency Relief Coordinator

WORLD BICYCLE DAY

GENEVA SPECIAL EVENT SHEET

World Bicycle Day, designated by the General Assembly and celebrated annually on June 3rd, draws attention to the benefits of using the bicycle – a simple, affordable, clean and environmentally sustainable means of transportation. The bicycle contributes to cleaner air and less congestion, and makes education, health care and other social services more accessible to the most vulnerable populations.

According to the World Health Organization, safe infrastructure for walking and cycling is also a pathway for achieving greater health equity. People in the poorest urban sectors often cannot afford private vehicles, so walking and cycling can provide a form of transport while reducing the risk of heart disease, stroke, certain cancers, diabetes and even death. Accordingly, improved active transport is not only healthy, it is also equitable and cost-effective.

A sustainable transport system such as bicycling that promotes economic growth, reduces inequalities while bolstering the fight against climate change is critical to achieving the Sustainable Development Goals.

UNPA celebrates World Bicycle Day on 3 June 2022 with a special event sheet of 10 stamps in the denomination of CHF 1.50.

Special Event Sheet Specifications:

Stamp size:	40.6 mm x 29.8 mm
Tab size:	26.6 mm x 29.8 mm
Sheet size:	279.4 mm x 215.9 mm

This special event sheet may be personalized with a photograph replacing the United Nations logo. Customers are invited to visit the UNPA stamp shops in New York, Geneva or Vienna, or upload their photographs to the UNPA website: unstamps.org

WORLD CHESS DAY

VIENNA SPECIAL EVENT SHEET

World Chess Day is celebrated annually on 20 July, The General Assembly proclaimed this day to mark the date of the establishment of the International Chess Federation in Paris in 1924.

The United Nations recognizes that sport, the arts and physical activity have the power to change perceptions, prejudices and behaviours, as well as to inspire people, break down racial and political barriers, combat discrimination and defuse conflict, and therefore contribute to the promotion of education, sustainable development, peace, cooperation, solidarity, social inclusion and health at the local, regional and international levels.

Chess is an ancient, intellectual and cultural game, and it encompasses elements of sport, science and art. As an affordable and inclusive activity, it can be played anywhere and by all, across the barriers of language, age, gender, physical ability or social status.

Chess is a global game that promotes fairness, inclusion and mutual respect, and it can contribute to an atmosphere of tolerance and understanding among peoples and nations.
