NOTEWORTHY NEWS

SHIPPING AND HANDLING FEE UPDATE:

Effective 1 January 2026, the UNPA Shipping & Handling fee will increase from $3.00 to $4.00 per order. This adjustment has become necessary due to rising postal and packaging costs. We remain committed to providing you with high-quality service and we appreciate your understanding and continued support.

CUSTOMERS PLEASE NOTE: There is a new threshold for automatic registration of orders. Orders valued at $500.00 and above (instead of the previous $200.00) will now automatically be sent via registered mail.

LETTER FROM THE CHIEF

Dear Collector,

As 2025 comes to a close, I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your support of the United Nations Postal Administration (UNPA). As we celebrate the eightieth anniversary of the United Nations this year, we can look back and say that we have accomplished a lot.

UNPA started the 2025 programme with its very popular Lunar Calendar series – featuring the “Year of the Snake”. In March, UNPA issued stamps for International Women’s Day under the theme “For All Women and Girls”. In April, stamps were issued to commemorate the International Day of Sport for Development and Peace. UNPA also continued its long-running stamps series on Endangered Species.

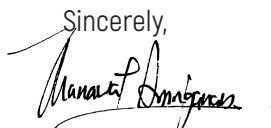

In May and June, UNPA released sold-out stamps celebrating the one hundredth anniversary of the Palace Museum in Beijing, followed by the International Year of Glaciers’ Preservation. In August, UNPA issued stamps promoting “No Nukes” in commemoration of the eightieth anniversary of the Hiroshima and Nagasaki atomic bombings.

In September, for the International Day of Peace, UNPA is issuing special embroidered “Dove of Peace” stamps in conjunction with the Universal Postal Union and 10 other postal administrations. In October, UNPA is commemorating the eightieth anniversary of the United Nations with three special stamp sheets designed internally by a colleague from the Department of Global Communications. In November, UNPA will issue its World Heritage stamp series featuring sites from Mexico, along with the annual collection folders.

As we close out this special year honouring the 80th Anniversary of the UN, let us all reflect on what Peace means to each and every one of us and how we can contribute personally to the enduring, universal value of peace around the world.

We look forward to another successful year in 2026 with many new and exciting stamp themes.

As always, we value your support of our philatelic programme.

Sincerely,

Thanawat Amnajan
Chief

UNITED FOR PEACE – ONE STITCH AT A TIME

In September 2025, the United Nations Postal Administration (UNPA) in conjunction with the Universal Postal Union (UPU) and 10 other postal organizations will jointly issue embroidered “Dove of Peace” stamps to celebrate the International Day of Peace and promote the value of peace to people all around the world.

It is very rare for the UPU and postal organizations to jointly issue stamps to promote peace. In addition to UNPA, the other postal organizations are Åland (Finland), Armenia, Austria, Barbados, Cyprus, Faroe Islands (Denmark), Greenland (Denmark), Liechtenstein, Luxembourg and Switzerland.

The “Dove of Peace” stamp features an embroidered white dove carrying on olive branch outlined in blue, symbolizing a shared commitment to promoting peace. The peace dove glides forward with outstretched wings speaking a language that knows no borders, no religions and no ideologies. The project transcends borders just like real doves, acting as unique postage ambassadors unifying people from around the world, carrying a global message of peace.

This limited-edition stamp crafted from textiles was embroidered and manufactured by the Austrian company Hämmerle & Vogel. While seemingly simple, it involves skilful craftsmanship. It is both practical and artistic, combining a great design with a powerful message.

The “Dove of Peace” stamp is not just a philatelic product. It is a collective appeal for hope and unity and a symbol of peace across continents connecting postal administrations and people around the world. We can all contribute personally by reflecting on what peace means to each and every one of us, and how we can contribute to this global movement of peace.

The UPU and UNPA invite you to join this movement by using this stamp as a universal medium to symbolize and encourage the unity of peace across nations, one stitch at a time.

UNITED NATIONS EIGHTIETH ANNIVERSARY

UN80 INITIATIVE: BUILDING A STRONGER, MORE EFFECTIVE UNITED NATIONS

UNPA is issuing three stamp sheets on 24 October 2025 to celebrate the eightieth anniversary of the United Nations.

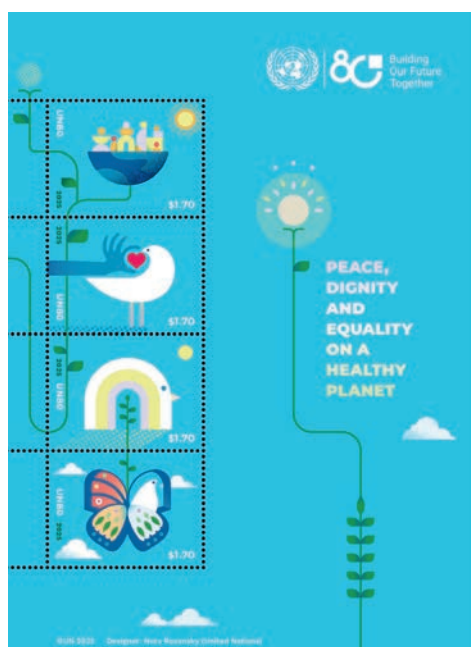

As the United Nations marks its eightieth anniversary in 2025, the Secretary-General launched the UN80 Initiative, a system-wide reform effort to ask and answer a fundamental question: How can we be more nimble, coordinated and effective for the next 80 years?

At a time of growing global crises and pressure on multilateralism, the UN80 Initiative aims to reimagine how the United Nations delivers – not by doing less, but by doing better.

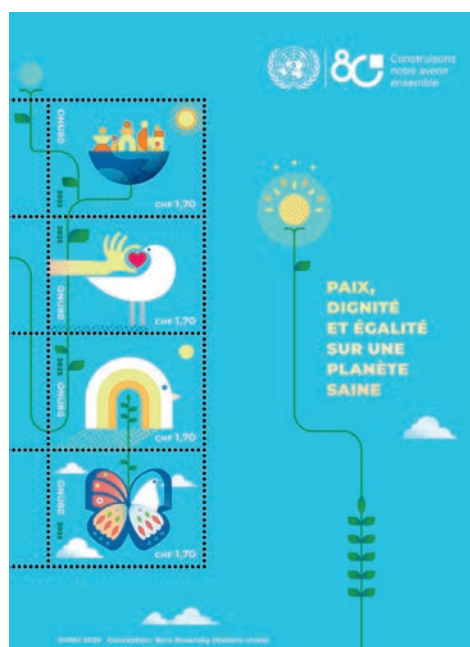

The UN80 Initiative focuses on three parallel workstreams:

- Efficiencies and improvements in how we manage and operate
- Reviewing how mandates are implemented, not what they are
- Exploring structural and programme realignment across the United Nations system

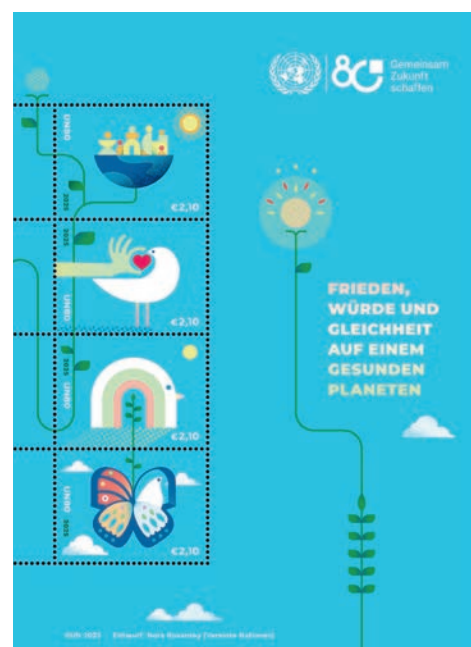

This effort aims to make the United Nations more effective, agile and responsive. It is about using the limited resources as effectively as possible by working more efficiently, reducing bureaucracy and better supporting both our staff and the people we serve.

The designs

The three stamp sheets in the denominations of $1.70, CHF 1,70 and €2,10 feature four se-tenant stamps in a vertical design. The designs incorporate the themes of the pillars of the United Nations: peace and security, development and human rights.

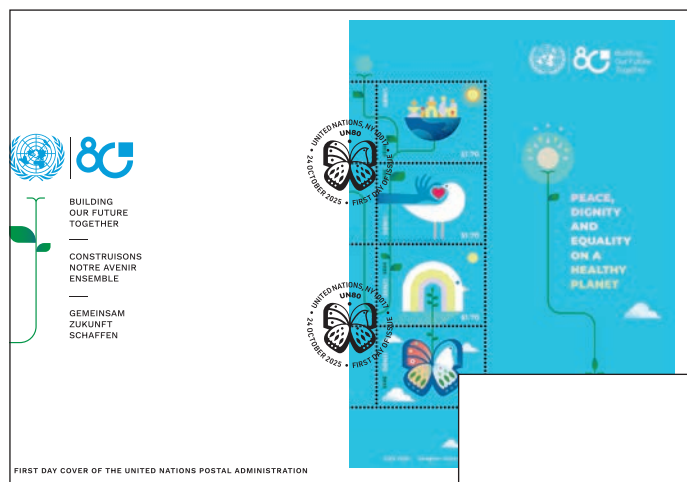

The first stamp is Earth portrayed as greenery, showing growth – the geometric forms atop it integrate human, architectural and community development.

The second stamp focuses on human rights – the peace dove and hand represent humanity joined in the common goal of tolerance, acceptance and love.

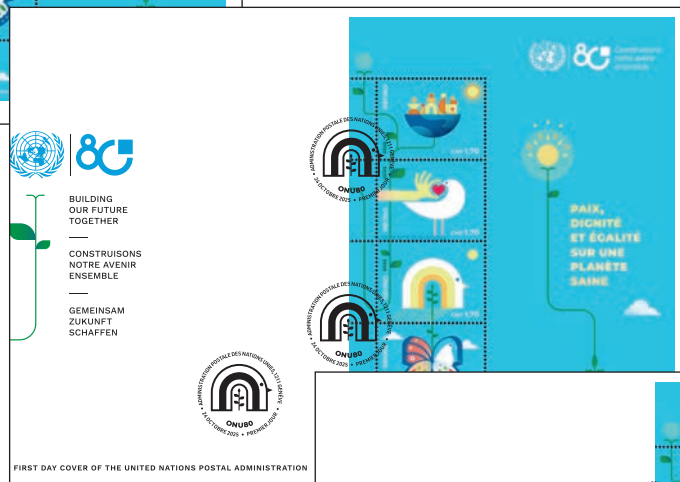

The third stamp shows an architectural rainbow that integrates with a peace dove. It protects the growing foliage, which allows for growth and development. Without peace and safety, communities cannot thrive.

The last stamp shows the freedom of a butterfly, a symbol of transformation and hope. Integrated into the butterfly wing, a dove is perched on the arch as an open window in the sky. This symbolizes how peace needs freedom to be able to progress.

UNESCO WORLD HERITAGE – MEXICO

The World Heritage Convention, adopted by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) in 1972, emphasizes the collective responsibility of all nations to protect these sites for present and future generations.

World heritage refers to cultural and natural sites of “outstanding universal value” that are recognized by UNESCO as needing protection for the benefit of all humanity. These sites, inscribed on the World Heritage List, represent a shared legacy and are considered to be of exceptional importance to the planet’s cultural and natural heritage.

For almost 30 years, UNPA has issued stamps featuring UNESCO world heritage sites. UNPA is proud to present to collectors its 2025 series featuring six sites in Mexico.
