The stamps were designed by renowned illustrator Sergio Baradat.

AMERICA 250

On 25 May 2026, the United Nations Postal Administration (UNPA) issued two special stamp sheets celebrating the 250th anniversary of the United States of America.

On 4 July 2026, the United States marked its semiquincentennial, celebrating 250 years since the signing of the Declaration of Independence in Philadelphia in 1776. The Declaration announced the 13 colonies' decision to forge an independent nation – laying the foundation for the United States.

As a founding Member State of the United Nations, the United States has played an important role in advancing the Organization's mission, including promoting human rights, multilateral cooperation and international peace and security.

To celebrate this milestone, UNPA is releasing a $2.50 commemorative stamp and an America 250 stamp sheet, highlighting the long-standing partnership between the United States and the United Nations.

The commemorative stamp features the Declaration of Independence, with Philadelphia's Independence Hall in the background.

MACAO 2026 SPECIALIZED WORLD STAMP EXHIBITION

Special event mini-sheet

On 26 June 2026, UNPA issued a souvenir sheet entitled “Blue and White Porcelain – Macao 2026 Specialized World Stamp Exhibition” to commemorate the MACAO 2026 Specialized World Stamp Exhibition, held in Macao, China, from 26 June to 1 July 2026.

The issue celebrates the rich history of Chinese export porcelain and Macao’s important role as a global trading port during the Ming Dynasty. Through Macao, large quantities of porcelain reached Europe, fostering cultural exchange between East and West and influencing artistic traditions across continents.

The souvenir sheet highlights Kraak porcelain, a category of blue-and-white ceramics produced primarily in Jingdezhen and Zhangzhou during the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. The sheet includes:

- New York ($1.70): Melon-shaped vase with seahorse and floral and fruit patterns (Palace Museum, Beijing)
- Geneva (CHF 2,50): Four Occupations Plate (Palace Museum, Beijing)
- Vienna (€2,00): Water Vase (Macao Museum)

The background depicts the Macao Peninsula rendered in the style of traditional blue-and-white porcelain and features the Ruins of Saint Paul’s and the surrounding historic centre. The issue was designed by Lam Chi Ian (Macao, China) and Wu Di (China).

2026 ENDANGERED SPECIES

On 24 April 2026, UNPA continues its Endangered Species stamp series with the issuance of 12 stamps, three maximum cards, a limited-edition silk cover and the 2026 Endangered Species folder.

The 2026 Endangered Species stamps shine a spotlight on species that often go unnoticed in conservation conversations: medicinal and aromatic plants. This group of flora is not only vital to ecosystems but also deeply woven into human culture, health and trade.

Medicinal and aromatic plants are indispensable to societies worldwide, providing the foundation for traditional medicine to people in developing countries, as well as supplying active compounds for modern pharmaceuticals. Beyond their medical uses, they contribute to industries such as cosmetics, food and luxury goods, while also stabilizing soils, supporting pollinators and enriching biodiversity.

These plants demonstrate the many ways societies depend on nature – and underscore the need for sustainable practices to ensure they continue to support both people and ecosystems. Their inclusion in this year’s collection accentuates the growing recognition that biodiversity conservation extends far beyond charismatic animals – it reaches into the very roots, leaves and flowers that sustain traditions and modern medicine alike.

For 50 years, the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora (CITES) has provided the global framework for its now 185 parties (184 countries and the European Union) to ensure that trade in wild species is legal, traceable and sustainable.

UNPA is proud to have supported CITES and their conservation efforts through the issuance of Endangered Species stamps of flora and fauna for the past 35 years.

UNPA NEW YORK SEVENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

New York special event sheet

On 27 July 2026, UNPA issued a New York special event sheet to commemorate the seventy-fifth anniversary of the United Nations Postal Administration.

Since 1951, UNPA's New York office has been at the heart of United Nations philately, creating stamps that tell the story of the United Nations and its mission to promote peace, human rights, sustainable development and international cooperation. This special seventy-fifth anniversary issue honours the rich history and enduring legacy of the only postal administration in the world that issues stamps in the name of the United Nations.

From its headquarters in New York, UNPA has produced thousands of stamps that commemorate global achievements, raise awareness of important international issues and celebrate the diverse cultures and peoples of the world. The stamps featured in this anniversary collection highlight the evolution of UNPA's artistic and philatelic excellence over the past seven and a half decades.

As we mark this milestone, we celebrate not only 75 years of stamp production but also 75 years of connecting people worldwide through the shared values and ideals of the United Nations.

Customers with standing order requirements for special event sheets will automatically receive these stamp sheets through their accounts. All other customers can purchase these products by using the order form attached to this issue of Fascination.

UNESCO WORLD HERITAGE – VATICAN CITY

On 28 August 2026, UNPA will issue a new set of stamps celebrating six remarkable landmarks in Vatican City as part of its long-running World Heritage stamp series, which has highlighted UNESCO World Heritage sites since 1997.

The 2026 issue features Saint Peter's Basilica and Square, the Sistine Chapel, the Vatican Apostolic Library, the Vatican Gardens, the Bramante Staircase, and the Raphael Rooms. Together, these sites showcase Vatican City's extraordinary artistic, architectural and cultural legacy.

Inscribed on UNESCO's World Heritage List in 1984, Vatican City is unique in combining an exceptional concentration of masterpieces within the world's smallest independent State. Its monuments, collections and institutions reflect centuries of achievement in art, architecture, scholarship and faith, making it one of the world's most significant cultural landscapes.

The stamp issue also highlights the importance of the World Heritage Convention, adopted by UNESCO in 1972. Through this international agreement, countries committed to identifying, protecting and preserving cultural and natural sites of outstanding universal value so they can be passed on to future generations.

By featuring World Heritage sites on its stamps, UNPA helps raise awareness of humanity's shared cultural legacy. The 2026 Vatican City issue serves as a reminder that preserving heritage is about more than safeguarding monuments and landscapes – it is about protecting the stories, knowledge and achievements that connect people across generations and cultures.
